

Aussiblué

Post installation tips for your new lawn

How long will my turf take to establish?

Aussiblué will take about 2-3 weeks to establish, depending on the season (slower in winter). Simply lift up a corner of a slab to see if it has “taken”. Keep traffic to a minimum to help it along.

How do I care for my new lawn? Follow these three basic steps...

1 WATER, WATER, WATER

GOLDEN RULE: Until your turf is established, keep the soil moist!

First week: water morning and evening

Second week: water every morning

Third week: water every other morning

When established: 1-2 times a week with a deep water, morning is best.

NOTE: If planting in our Qld summer, your turf will dry out very quickly. Watering is critical.
Obviously, rain is wonderful! Less watering will be needed.

2 MOW

- Start mowing your lawn as soon as your turf has taken (approx. 2-3 weeks)
- Ensure the mower deck is on a high setting for the first mow. Just a trim, don't scalp it!
- Once established Aussiblué may be mowed short - optimum height 20-40mm.
- Keep your mower blades sharp.

3 FERTILISE

Once established, fertilise in each season with a quality, organic lawn fertiliser.

- Early spring
- Early summer
- Late summer

Be accurate with your application rate.
